NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Charles A. Stoneham's majority interest in the New York Giants National League baseball club has been sold to A. C. Blumenthal, theatrical promoter, for a price reported to be $1,750,000.

The International News Service learned exclusively today that contracts for the sale were drawn up last week by former City Magistrate Leo Healy of Brooklyn.

Walker To Be President
It is understood former Mayor James J. Walker will become president of the club under conditions of the sales contract.

Walker for many years has been a close friend of Blumenthal's, Stoneham's and Healy's and the announcement of his future connection was no surprise.

The deal was to have been kept secret until after the world series but a leak on the legal end permitted it to become known.

John J. McGraw, for many years manager of the Giants, will retain his minority holdings in the club. Several other prominent New Yorkers, among them Walter Chrysler, Jr., son of the automobile magnate, were said to be associated with Blumenthal in the purchase.

Negotiations Conducted
Chrysler, reached at his office today, denied he had any connection. (Continued On Page Two)

President San Martin Seeks To Secure Recognition By United States

FORMER U. S. ENVOY IS STATE SECRETARY

Republic Appears Peaceful And Business Is Becoming Normal

(International News Service)
HAVANA, Sept. 12.—Carefully choosing one of the strongest cabinets in Cuba's history, President Ramon Grau San Martin strove today to bring his new administration in line with terms for American recognition.

At the same time, he made overtures with the United States for what he hoped would be a mutually beneficial trade agreement.

The president named Marques Sterling, former Cuban envoy to Washington, as secretary of state in his cabinet, and the appointment was immediately accepted. It was generally believed Sterling was chosen because of his popularity and experience in Washington.

Cuban "Brain Trust"
His appointment to the important post was considered a direct move to link President Grau San Martin's administration with the administration of President Roosevelt.

Dr. Carlos J. Finlay, as secretary of sanitation in the government, heads a Cuban "brain trust" built along the lines of President Roosevelt's famous group. The best minds of the National University are among the under-secretaries of this advisory board.

Trotter, pilots of one of the American entries in this year's Bennett Cup balloon race were expected to reach here today from a wooded area's camp in the wilds north of here.

Police authorities here were notified this afternoon of the bank robbery perpetrated at noon today at the S. J. Gully bank in Farrell by seven or eight men, who after grabbing all available money and kidnapping a twenty-one year old German young man in the bank, made their getaway in two Ford cars.

The police here were asked to be on the lookout for the bank holdup men and local officers were dispatched to points of vantage on possible routes into this city of the men in question.

Would the sequence of events been the same? Would David Lamson, young promising Stanford publishing executive, be sitting in this courtroom today charged with wife-murder?

So he comes into court today to tell about those lights and nothing else. David Lamson says he was called by his wife, Allene, at about four o'clock that morning and fixed her hot soup and a cheese sandwich because she was suffering from indigestion.

All the mysteries, all the strange theories of what went on in that pretty little bungalow on the Stanford campus before dawn—if the milkman had followed his impulse, and offered help, what would he have seen?

Report 8000 Miners Are Out On Strike

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—Rumbblings of another major walkout in Western Pennsylvania's rich bituminous coal field grew in volume today as more than 8,000 miners were on strike and the first bit of violence was recorded.

The walkout today centered in Westmoreland county, although sections of Greene, Washington and Allegheny coal fields were hit by the strike which threatens to become general tomorrow unless a coal code is signed following "final hearings" in Washington today.

Eleven men were arrested by state police at Saleville mine of the Keystone Coal & Coke Company and held on warrants charging assault sworn out by Deputy Sheriff George Connelly. Four other men accused by Connelly also were sought.

The officer reported he was returning to work when the men, whom he characterized as strikers, attacked him and beat him severely.

United Mine Workers officials estimated that between 25 and 30 miles were shut down by the strike today. This figure included the large Mather mine of the Pickands-Mather Company in Greene county, seven tips of the Pittsburgh Coal Company including Montour 10, the largest of the chain, eight mines of Westmoreland Coal Company, two of the Keystone Coal & Coke, one of Hillman Coal & Coke and several of the Ocean Coal Company.

District presidents of the three Southwestern Pennsylvania fields united in issuing public statements to the miners asking them to remain on the job until the code was completed. A mass meeting has been scheduled for tomorrow at Pricedale to decide whether the walkout is to become general.

Labor Is Seeking 35-Hour Week In Permanent Codes

New Demand Is Facing NRA In Preparation Of Permanent Codes

HEARING TODAY ON COAL CODE

Johnson Still Optimistic Of Agreement On Code For Coal Industry

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—A virtual demand by organized labor for a 35-hour week or less in permanent codes of fair competition, raised a new issue for the national recovery administration as other important questions neared decision today.

The demand for a shortening of the hours of labor approved in many modifications of the president's employment agreement, voiced by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, will be laid before the federation convention here soon.

Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, is known to have under consideration an adjustment of hours of labor as the operation of permanent codes discloses the effect of the movement on the unemployment problem.

Business Of Day.
The days business of the NRA included:

1. Hearings opened on codes for the motion picture, boot and shoe and silk textile industries, all bringing difficult problems.

2. A formal ruling from the legal staff on the NRA on the question of the open and closed shop was expected within week.

3. Hearing on objections to the bituminous coal code, which may be the medium for the decision on the closed shop issue, was to open with Johnson presiding.

Margiotti Announces Lottery Trial Of Senator To Be Started In New York

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12.—The very much delayed trial of United States Senator James J. Davis on a federal indictment brought under the national lottery law will be started Monday, Sept. 18, in the New York federal court, Attorney Charles J. Margiotti, counsel for Davis, said today.

Sen. Davis is accused of profiting from lotteries operated by the Loyal Order of Moose, of which he is director general. The trial was started once but we called a mistrial due to the actions of a juror. Since then it has been delayed several times, twice because of Sen. Davis' condition following an appendectomy.

Despite a vigorous last minute campaign by dry leaders, including F. Scott McBride, head of the anti-saloon league, wet advocates predicted a majority of better than two to one in a vote that may not exceed 200,000.

Because of an apparent apathy on the part of the electorate a comparatively light vote is anticipated.

Observers from both camps expected a comparatively large vote throughout the state.

opened by NRA statisticians as consumers' advisory board continued its war upon price-fixing.

5. Retail code to be acted upon by Johnson as soon as coal question is settled, with an important decision on the proposal for a price-minimum slated.

6. Formal announcement of plan to insure compliance with Blue Eagle agreements, with local mediation to precede any legal action, expected soon.

Must Alter Course

The entire labor issue, with industry split and organized labor presenting a solid front, was brought to the forefront with Green's declaration that the present course of the NRA must be altered to insure employment for all.

In addition to shortening hours of labor, he demanded new high wage levels, elimination of the differential between north and south and assailed tampering with the labor provisions of the N. I. R. A.

"If we enter the coming winter with seven or eight millions of unemployed now indicated, the labor movement cannot guarantee that stability necessary to orderly industrial recovery," Green said.

Reemployment has not measured up to expectations, he asserted.

Urges Closed Shop

With manufacturers construing Johnson's recent labor announcement as outlawing the closed shop, thus preventing 100 per cent agreements with unions, a formal ruling was expected to be given in the settlement of the coal problem.

Some manufacturers have urged the closed shop as a protection against radical unions. The major employers, however, were fighting it.

Following today's hearing on objections to the bituminous coal code, conferences will be held between representatives of the industry and Johnson's aides in an effort to bring about an agreement.

Despite the belligerent attitude of the coal magnates, Johnson was still optimistic over the chance of bringing a substantial majority of the industry into accord on a coal code.

On the basis of returns from 533 of the 632 precincts in the state, repealists claimed victory with 113,581 votes in favor of repeal to 71,971 opposing repeal.

In only one county—York—was there indication that the dries would carry their slate. There an independent ticket complicated the situation for the wets and there was some indication the repeal vote would be so split as to fail of electing either slate.

By its vote Maine became the 26th state moving to end national prohibition and pointed the way for Colorado, Maryland and Minnesota, which vote today.

Local Man Slightly Injured When Car Burns And Explodes

James A. Wallace And Clyde Hayden Escape Serious Injury In Accident

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 12.—James A. Wallace and Clyde Hayden of this city escaped serious injury and possible death when a car in which they were riding skidded off the road over an eight foot embankment, overturned, burst into flames, and then exploded as the gas tank caught fire, near Leesburg.

Mr. Wallace, the driver of the car is suffering with painful bruises to his head, left arm, and shoulder. With the exception of being shaken up Mr. Hayden was uninjured. The automobile was completely demolished by flames.

Mr. Wallace, with his passenger had been enroute to Buffalo, N. Y., about 3:30 yesterday afternoon when the accident occurred. It was raining at the time and the road was wet and slippery. They were one mile out of Leesburg near a quarantine station on the highway.

There was another machine in front of the Wallace car. The former had stopped at the quarantine station. Mr. Wallace was close behind. His brakes failed to hold and in order to avoid striking the car in front, he swerved his car to the left and before he could straighten it out again, it had gone over the eight foot embankment.

The car overturned alighting on its roof. As it burst into flames state highway patrolmen, who were at the quarantine station at the time, came to the rescue and extricated the occupants. As they were brought away from the flames the gas tank caught fire and exploded. Both men received first aid there, and later were brought to this city by the highway patrolmen. Mr. Wallace was brought to the office of a local physician where his injuries were dressed.

with the purported purchase. Blumenthal was reported out of the city.

Later Steneham said he did not know Blumenthal or Healy added he had not been negotiating with either of them for the sale of his stock.

Negotiations for the sale were conducted through Dan Moriarty and Nat Cook, two radio entertainment promoters, who have been negotiating with McGraw and Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics for a series of broadcasts on the world series.

When Walker resigned as mayor, Blumenthal announced that he had offered his pal, Jimmy, legal business worth $100,000 a year. Blumenthal recently made a trip to Europe where he held several conferences with Walker.

Walker has always been a fan of the first water and at one time he was mentioned as a probable successor to Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis as the supreme arbiter of baseball.

Walker Surprised

EVIAN-LES-BAINES, France, Sept. 12.—"I am surprised to hear the report that A. C. Blumenthal has bought the New York Giants and that I am to become president," former Mayor James J. Walker told International News Service here today.

"I have not had any offer and I have not even heard from Blumenthal," Walker admitted, however, that some time ago two persons who were dickering for the Giants offered him the presidency if they succeeded in buying.

ANOTHER ADVENTURE FOR BYRD

THE record of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd in aeronautics and exploration is such that any new venture planned by him is of world-wide interest. This intrepid Virginian has flown to the North Pole, has made Arctic explorations, has crossed the Atlantic in the air, headed an expedition to the Antarctic, made a flight over the South Pole and spent a year in the frozen region.

The second Byrd expedition to the South Pole is even more interesting in anticipation than was the first, for the reason that the world now knows the comprehensive and systematic preparations this explorer makes for his undertakings, is better informed as to the objectives of his explorations and has a confirmed confidence in his skill and resourcefulness.

The Antarctic is the only extensive region remaining about which we have little intimate knowledge. Even the casual observer will get Admiral Byrd's broad interest in a second expedition to this region when the explorer says the unknown area is bigger than the United States and Mexico combined, "and so long as there is a surface (unexplored) as big as that on the face of the earth, we ought to know more about it."

Scientists will envy Admiral Byrd and his associates, at least those who have the hardihood to brave great dangers and hardships for their cause says the Kansas City Star. Much may be learned from this new penetration, which is to be undertaken with the advantage gained in the experiences of the first expedition. But while scientists will have their own peculiar interest in the voyage and its results, the reaction of vast numbers of laymen will be from the spirit of adventure still strong in the blood of mankind.

Ours is an age of machine exploration, of equipment by which man can project himself and his observations far beyond the fancies of those who revealed the world to their fellows from generation to generation; yet, this age, in such undertakings as that of Admiral Byrd, has no less excitement, no less hazard, and needs no less courage than did the age of sailboats and caravans.

KEEP CRIMINALS IN PRISON

Concentration of all Federal agencies for investigation of crime in one department and close co-operation of the state are recommended by the San Francisco Examiner, and it adds that governors of states should honor each other's requisitions where a major crime is alleged, and that each governor should have an efficient constabulary to work with the Federal force.

It might have added that no governor should pardon or parole a convict who has been sentenced for a second offense. Many pardons are granted on evidence to a governor which would not stand fire in court. Governors often celebrate Christmas or signalize their retirement from office by liberating many convicts who immediately return to crime. Much time of police and sheriffs is spent in capture of habitual criminals who go through the regular procedure: Conviction, sentence, pardon, more crime.

NO PLACE FOR POISONS

Sound advice is contained in a statement from the United States public health service in which housewives are urged to separate harmless remedies from poisons on their medicine shelves.

The timeliness of this advice is emphasized by the frequently recurring news report of persons being rushed to hospitals as the result of poisons taken by mistake.

The health service points out that the average man or woman "messes up everything from common baking soda to bichloride of mercury tablets, despite the fact that doctors have issued warnings about the danger of having poisons in the house."

For those who will not accept the advice not to keep poisons in the home, the health service suggests that the plan of precaution that is "nearest fool-proof is to tie a piece of cloth over the mouth of the bottle, using a double-knot, and then place the container on a top shelf, where it will not be easily attainable by children or by those made careless through attacks of pain."

It is pointed out that the primary use of a medicine cabinet in the home is for aid in an emergency. All too frequently, the government bulletin points out, here as it what develops:

In a case of emergency most people become excited. Their wits cannot be depended upon. Someone will hurry to the medicine closet in excitement. Two or three days afterwards there will be a hearse at the door and the neighbors will talk about the mistake that someone made in getting the wrong bottle.

Poisons are not necessary in the family medicine shelf, but if they are kept, certainly they should be so placed, and made so difficult to remove from their containers, that there can be no chance, for even the most careless or excited, to take one by mistake.

DOERS AND LEANERS

WE'VE GOT TOO MANY LEADERS," states P. H. Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, recently. "Too many people in this country have not learned to sharpen their wits on the grindstone of necessity. NOBODY EVER GOT ANYWHERE BY WAITING. Doing something, even if you do it wrong—is better than doing nothing at all."

I am reminded of a college president who says the trouble today is everybody is waiting, from college students to business executives. A lot of seniors are planning post-graduate courses for next year—to wait for better times and better chances for jobs. I'm telling my boys not to come back. I'm telling them to get out and hustle the way their fathers had to do."

That is the very essence of our troubles of today in the economic world. Too many people are waiting to be re-born with a silver spoon in their mouths. Too many young folks are just "resting up" till a good job shows up. Quite too many older ones, finding a paternal government willing to give them aid, are sitting by, accepting a dole and living off others who are bearing this double burden—accepting alms when they should be ashamed to do so, and forming the fixed habit of becoming a "leaner."

The doers of today will rule the world tomorrow.—Republican Leader, Salem, Ind.

THE WEATHER

Do you allow the weather to control your spirits?

A bright, sunny day and you are happy and cheerful.

But when the clouds gather and dark, gloomy weather comes on, you are morose and irritable.

When it is hot you are peevish—when it is cold you complain.

How foolish to permit yourself to be wafted about in a way that detracts from your enjoyment of life just because the sun is under a cloud.

The bright days always follow the bleak days.

Haven't you enough real character to be above letting such a thing as the weather affect your spirits and pleasure in living?

Are you still a child, incapable of seeing into the future enough to give you hope of better things?

Sensible, philosophical people get the most out of life.

Such persons will not let "the weather" affect them.

When disappointment comes which might have been avoided, there may be some excuse for complaining.

But who can change the weather?

A lady entered and seated herself in a train by the side of a salesman. After a while the traveler said politely:

"Excuse me, miss, but —"

"If you speak to me or annoy me, I'll pull the train cord," snapped the girl.

Whenever he attempted to speak, the girl threatened to give the alarm. At last the train slowed up at a station, and the traveler rose to his feet.

"I don't care whether you like it or not," he said, "but I want that bag of strawberries you've been sitting on for the last six miles."

PASSING IT AROUND
Sam Harris of Miami, and formerly of this city, sends us the following clipping from a Miami newspaper:

NEW CASTLE, Pa., Aug. 14—A real estate operator says a tenant telephoned him saying: "I've had a 15 per cent wage increase due to the N. R. A. and I believe I should share it with you. You can increase my rent $5 a month."

H. G. Wells said in London that free rent would be in order after the next war. Some people in this country have already quit paying rent and that will be nothing new here. After staying in a house three or four months some have the nerve to ask the landlord to pay for moving 'em out and they never intended to pay a cent and then in addition leave the house in a mess. Those crooks just know how much they can beat the owner of a house out of by not paying any rent.

This is also one of the reasons the vote is so heavy against the 18th amendment. This same whisky or probably better was bought before prohibition at $10 a case.

NO REPUBLICANS IN BULGER TOWN
Office of Joe Bulger, At Birmingham, Alabama, September 8, 1933.

Fred Rentz—News Company, New Castle, Pennsylvania.

As regards your western union telegram September 6 where you say George Muse is neglecting his innocent clients in the county jail on act he is spending all his time worrying as regards not having any recent advices from my facie pen I would have wrote you sooner except I have been lately very busy.

Since I came in this place a couple of months ago I have had to revise all my recipes and make new experiments on act the herbs etcetera are different here than are found in Pennsylvania. Boiled corn and peaches are the main standbys here for making medicines for liver complaints and also they don't have any basements under your garage so I had to establish my laboratory in a cabin up on the mountain away from the main roads where the smoke from all my experiments would not disturb any prohibition neighbors if any except you don't find many prohibition neighbors in this place.

Speaking of the prohibition party I know you would like to hear how politics is run in this place and you will be terribly shocked to know that here we have no republicans. There was one time here one prominent republican but he shortly disappeared and if you inquire where he went they will shrug their shoulders and say well he just went somewhere.

Of course you can be a republican here if you want to but it is best not to say anything about it. They don't keep republicans out of the churches but they have to wait out in the yard until all the democrats get the best seats and then if any are left they let them come in but if any more democrats come in and there happen to be no vacant seats the republicans have to go out and let the democrats have their pews.

Naturally they don't have any republican primaries because no republicans run for office and it wouldn't do them any good if they did so all of the primaries is democratic primaries. Up in New Castle Fred you and me used to weep many tears of bitter anguish over the way the republicans and the democrats and the prohibitionists used bad language about each other election times. You can take it from me Fred that you would be safe in wiping all your tears away because all the elections in New Castle would be U. P. Sunday school picnic compared with democratic primaries down here. The wonder to me is that anybody is left alive after a primary has been held.

Also after they get through with the primary they take about a dozen of the candidates which got the most votes and have another primary which they call the runoff to decide which of the dozen have the best right to run in the regular election where the only candidates are the successful bidders in the democratic primary runoff. You will see from this that you don't know nothing about politics at all and neither do I.

Also I see where in your paper September 6 Ray Tunnhill gets himself wrote up on the front page on act he got mixed up in some one horse revolution and hurricane in Cuba. Ray don't need to expect no heartfelt and spontaneous applause from me on act when I went away from New Castle last June Ray promised me he would come down this way on his vacation and stop at my place. Anyhow if he had been here and I was to have took him to view the democratic primaries which was had here he wouldn't think this little mess down in Cuba was anything to write home about.

So long, JOE BULGER.

Rights And Duties Of Labor Linked With Public Welfare

Annual Celebration Of Workers' Holiday Turns Attention To Government's Share In Creation Of Favorable Conditions

Observance of Labor Day, this year, aroused unusual interest in the relations between employers and employees, and inspired discussion of the place of labor organizations under the recovery campaign. While it is declared that associations of workers have an unprecedented opportunity to contribute to general efficiency, it is also contended that the New Deal sets aside the special interests of all groups, and commands the services of existing machinery of action in moving toward the establishment of good conditions for all citizens.

As an element of the present purpose of the Roosevelt Administration, the President Star-News advises that, under ideal conditions, "the right of every able-bodied man or woman, who desires work, to have employment is basic and fundamental." That paper further argues:

"Many studious persons are convinced that economic conditions never again will be the same in this country as they were before 1929. There must be far-reaching readjustment in business and industry, particularly as pertains to employment. Hours of labor and wages will be important factors in this new economic era which is dawning. It is well assured that there must be, universally, a shorter work day and a shorter work week. It is to be hoped that Americans of all classes will approach this problem of the economic transition in a calm, courageous, conscientious frame of mind and heart."

"Labor Day," in the judgment of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "is a time for serious thinking, studying and careful deliberation," a day for "deliberation, with the broad view and the long view of the interests of labor in general, whose vital stake is the return of normal employment." The Evening Bulletin feels that "at no previous time since the clouds of industrial depression began to gather have there been more encouraging signs of the return of fair working weather than at present."

That paper advises that "the interests of organized labor ought to be identical with the interests of labor in general." It is pointed out that these are some controversies in this field, and the Philadelphia paper contends:

"The workers want jobs and wages. All other considerations, however proper and important they might be considered in other circumstances, are now subordinate and ought to be kept so. The present situation calls for co-operation on the part of the employee as well as on the part of the employer. Steps toward the solution must be taken in union. Each of the partners must recognize the interest, even the whims, of the other, and adjust its respective pace to a harmonious stride. If NRA were to be wrecked by willful insistence on the part of one or the other, where concession and compromise are possible, it would be a disaster."

Uncle looked surprised. "But I understood from your mother that you were always at the foot of the class," he said.

The boy raised his eyebrows. "So I am," he replied. "And how could it stand if it didn't have a foot?"

Invented when he was 43, it was first used by the Federals in the War Between the States against the forces of Gatling's own native south, was in use in nearly all European countries before he died. (The Maxim automatic gun superseded it a few years later.) It was only one of his noteworthy inventions. Public Showing Little Interest In Court House

Commissioners Hear Nothing For Or Against Proposed Local Improvement

HAD HOPED TO GET SENTIMENT TREND

Very little information as to the sentiment of taxpayers of the county on the proposed erection of a new court house, has been obtained as the result of the publication of a recent article in which it was stated that the commissioners were seriously contemplating the project.

County Commissioner F. R. Woods stated that the commissioners had received practically no suggestions either for or against the proposed building. The commissioners brought it up at this time, owing to the fact that it was believed that thirty per cent of the cost could be received as a donation from the government. This would leave seventy per cent upon which the taxpayers would have to pay interest.

The estimated cost of the court house was given at $700,000. If thirty per cent were donated, the cost to the county would be $490,000, provided the cost did not run above the estimate. The commissioners set forth in the interview which was published in The News, the fact that they would like to hear from taxpayers. No direct communications have been received either for or against, which would indicate the general apathy of the public.

County commissioners hesitate to add to the county's tax burden at a time when so many citizens have been unable to pay taxes as they now stand. They feel, however, that there will probably never be another opportunity to get part of the money donated. It is a question of policy on which they had hoped to get the sentiment of their constituents who must foot the bill.

NEAR RIPLEY, W. VA.

(International News Service)
RIPLEY, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Wide-spread search was launched Monday for a 16 year old boy following the discovery by a neighbor of the beaten and bullet-pierced bodies of his parents, Rev. A. M. Eddy, 50, pastor of the Church of God at Grace Fork near here, and his wife.

The bodies were discovered by A. M. Lilly, a neighbor, as he was walking across a field to the Eddy home to borrow coffee for breakfast. Mrs. Eddy's body was lying in a small culvert. The body of the minister, shot four times through the head, was found inside the house.

Rifle Is Found
Although she had been shot three times and had apparently been beaten over the head with a rifle butt, Mrs. Eddy was still alive when she was found. She died before she could be questioned, however.

An adopted child about four years of age, was asleep in one of the rooms of the Eddy home. He told questioners in a childish prattle that he had heard nothing.

Police said that Ralph, the 16 year old son of Mrs. Eddy by her first husband, was missing along with the small automobile which the Eddys owned. Intensive search for the youth was ordered by authorities.

A rifle was found alongside the body of Mrs. Eddy in the culvert. It was identified, police said, as one which the 16 year old boy had borrowed three weeks ago from a neighbor. The butt of the weapon was shattered when found.

Mine Explosion Is Being Probed

Two Theories Are Held For Accident Causing The Death Of Seven

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 12—With a dispute raging over the cause of the tragedy, a triple investigation was underway by county, state and federal authorities today into the twin explosions which snuffed out seven lives at the Hillman Coal and Coke Company's barking mine near Springdale.

Two causes were given for the explosion. Coroner W. J. McGregor blamed an accumulation of gas, basing his theory on the fact that the bodies of the seven victims were not mutilated but showed signs of asphyxiation.

Mine officials insisted a pocket of coal dust was responsible for the state's worst mine tragedy in five years. Both sides admitted a spark from a motor set off the blast which tore away the supports in West Six and West Seven sections.

United States Bureau of Mines inspectors had not committed themselves today, pending completion of their investigation which was started as soon as rescue work was completed yesterday.

Private funeral services were expected to be arranged for the victims, Conrad Rubin, 41, Greeley Tu-sing, 39, Joseph Dibinsky 33, Jake
Miller, 44, Joe Francione, 22, Chas.
Solomon 47, and Mike Stopko, 47.
Solomon was the father of eleven children and had obtained his job-his first in nearly two years—only two weeks ago.

Philomena and Marie G. Flecken-istrator in the estate of the late C.

C. Robinson, in which they seek to recover $4,872.82 which they allege was given to Mr. Robinson to invest for them.

They claim to have given $1000 on Sept. 29, 1925; $1500 on March 29, 1926; $600 on May 4th, 1926 and $1600 on May 10th, 1927. Mr. Rob-that the money was given to him for investment, but no mortgages, total amount for which the claim is filed includes the interest due.

statement of claim that the money was really in the nature of a loan.
Interest is claimed from November 10th, 1932.

To Republican Voters of Lawrence County:

Personal fitness for the office one seeks is always an issue and a candidate should expect to be investigated from that standpoint. An ideal candidate should also be free from so-called political combinations or slates. Insofar as possible he should be representative of all the people in the district and every part of it. Mr. Reed's personal fitness and qualification for Register and Recorder are matters for your investigation. The right to be satisfied is heartily conceded. In making such investigation you will find also that Mr. Reed has pronounced strength in every corner of the county.

Will Prosecute Profiteers In Cotton Goods

Farm Administrator George N. Peek Threatens Action Against Profiteering

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—Criminal prosecution of textile manufacturers and dealers engaged in profiteering on cotton goods was threatened today by farm administrator George N. Peek.

Announcing a drive against unreasonable prices to consumers, Peek declared, "the administration will search out and prevent unjustifiable price increases on manufactured farm products."

A survey has revealed numerous examples of "apparently unreasonable profit taking by manufacturers and dealers," Peek declared. At the same time, he praised the "fair play of a large part of the trade," asserting it deserves praise rather than criticism.

Peek criticized the "wide disparity and considerable laxness" which he said has been manifested by textile manufacturers in billing retail merchants for increases above contract prices. The manufacturers are attributing these increases to cost hikes under the 4.3 cents a pound processing tax, and to the NRA program.

"While we are out to stop price gouging and will go considerable lengths to prevent it," said Peek, "I have the highest praise for the apparently wide section of the textile trade which seems to be trying to play fair with both the farmer and the consumer."

Sleeping Sickness Toll In St. Louis Reaches 119 Mark

Symptoms Of Dreaded Disease Are Outlined In Radio Talk By Doctor

(International News Service) ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 12.—The sleeping sickness epidemic which has taken a toll of 119 lives in the St. Louis area showed no signs of abatement today.

Additional cases of the dread disease brought the total close to the 700 mark. Five deaths occurred in the 24 hours ending at midnight. In an effort to check the disease, Dr. W. T. Harrison, public health service expert, outlined the disease symptoms in a radio broadcast and warned persons to go to a physician immediately if the drowsiness that precedes encephalitis appears.

Largest Westminster Class In All History At New Wilmington

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 12.—The largest class in the history of Westminster College reported for freshman orientation week yesterday. The schedule of assemblies, special meetings, tests, and social activities for the 250 first-year students will keep them busy until Friday when regular classes start.

The freshmen met in the chapel yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. President R. F. Galbreath gave the address of welcome, and the first-year students were then introduced to faculty members and given information.

Last evening the freshmen were gathered in the gymnasium for a song service under direction of Professor Alan B. Davis. College songs and yells were taught the first-year students at this meeting.

Classes for freshmen started this morning at 8 a. m. At chapel this morning at 10:45, Dean Carl E. Rankin addressed the freshmen on aims of college, and Professor J. D. Lawther spoke about the aptitude tests to be given all freshmen. These tests are being given this afternoon in the gymnasium. Tonight in the gymnasium a freshman "who's who" party will be held, sponsored by the Y. W. and Y. M. cabinets.

Tomorrow, freshman students will again have regular classes. The chapel assembly at 10:45 will feature two talks. Dr. H. L. Black, head of the mathematics department, will speak on "How to Make a Study of Study." In the evening, at 7 o'clock, the "big sisters," women students of the upper classes, will escort the freshmen women about campus and town. At 8:30 Wednesday evening, a formal reception will be held in Browne hall parlors, with faculty women and wives of faculty members assisting Dean Mary E. Turner as hosts.

Registration of upper-class students will start Wednesday afternoon and continue Thursday morning and afternoon. The convocation chapel for the entire college will be held Thursday morning at 10:45. Freshman men's games will be started on the athletic field Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m.

Regular classes start Friday morning at 8 a. m. Pastors of local churches will assist Dr. Galbreath at this service. The all-college "who's who" party will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening.

Zeberick Faces Robbery Charge

State Police Return Aleck Zeberick To Westmoreland County To Stand Trial

CRIME COMMITTED EIGHT YEARS AGO

(International News Service)

GREENSBURG, Pa., Sept. 12.—Aleck C. Zeberick, 36, returned here by state police from Cleveland last night to stand trial for the $75,000 robbery of the Vandergrift Savings and Trust Company nearly eight years ago, today was awaiting removal from the state police barracks to Westmoreland county jail.

Zeberick was brought here by Sergeant John Tomek of the state police who, accompanied by another officer, had gone to Cleveland with extradition papers for the suspect's transfer.

Indicted several years ago for the Vandergrift robbery, Zeberick has been linked at various times by police with the Pittsburgh Terminal Coal Company payroll robbery in 1925, in which I. L. Gump, a guard, was killed.

District Attorney Victor B. Bouton said today Zeberick would not be brought up for trial until the November term of court, when he will face the Vandergrift robbery charge. Bouton declined to say whether the state would press its investigation of the Gump murder or take any action on it at this time.

He indicated, however, that "if there is sufficient evidence," Zeberick might be called to stand trial later on the murder charge. Paul Jaworski, notorious leader of Western Pennsylvania Flathead gang, was electrocuted in 1929 for the Gump murder.

BEST SUMMER FOR CASTLETON

Business Of Summer Exceeds That Of Any Previous Year

Tourist trade has shown a decrease for the first week in September at the Castleton Hotel, although not as sharp a drop as was thought to be due, following Labor Day. All summer long the stream of tourists from the east and west has been continuous and business at the Castleton has been brisk ever since the opening of the Century of Progress in Chicago.

The present summer has been the best since its inception. While the majority of business this summer was headed to or from Chicago, no little of it was due to the work of Manager Thomas M. Boyle who did a splendid piece of educational work in the east and west for the Benjamin Franklin Highway as the near route from New York to Chicago and for New Castle as the logical stopping place midway.

"You can win out with lovely skin"

says LILA LEE

"Screen stars know it—every girl should realize it—that a truly lovely, soft, clear skin is the most alluring charm a woman can have. Radiant complexions always 'win out'! I use a simple complexion care—Lux Toilet Soap—that I've proved keeps my skin always soft and smooth. I advise every girl to use this fragrant, white soap for a really lovely complexion."

"This soap Screen Stars use is a wonderful aid to Complexion beauty," SCIENTISTS SAY

HERE'S WHY!... Scientists, testing this soap in their laboratories, explain: "Skin grows old-looking through the gradual loss of certain elements Nature puts in skin to keep it youthful. Gentle Lux Toilet Soap, so readily soluble, actually contains such precious elements—checks their loss from the skin."

"I FOLLOWED LILA LEE'S ADVICE—I'M POPULAR NOW"

"I used to be so unhappy," says Jennie Lois Phillips, of Dallas. "Then a friend told me Lila Lee's beauty secret. I began to use Lux Toilet Soap."

"After a short while my skin grew soft and smooth, with a clear, glowing loveliness that everybody notices! Now I'm really popular, and so happy!"

For every type of skin—dry, oily, "in-between." 9 out of 10 screen stars use this beauty soap to keep their skin lovely. Why don't you try it?

Weekly Health Talk

"Transatlantic liners from time to time are carriers of so-called cold sharks. When known, every precaution is taken by the companies to protect the unwary from their advances. In addition, investigators are invariably on the alert to discover others of the clan not as yet catalogued. However, in spite of attempts at protection, occasionally a passenger or two will be drawn into a game and be roundly fleeced. One such man was bitterly bemoaning his fate the other day upon his return from Europe. But unfortunately he is likely to lose a larger fortune because of his bemoaning himself," states Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health.

The fact is that this gentleman belongs to that ever-increasing group of persons who have been made conscious of their hearts. More than a year ago he was emphatically advised to cut down on his living speed, to eat sparingly and to avoid the intake of any kind of stimulant. Inhaled tobacco smoke, as well as coffee, tea and alcoholics were, under the circumstances, tabooed.

"Now then, this patient paid good money for this advice and the advice was very good. For a few months immediately following his scare he implicitly followed his physician's orders. However, with the return of his strength he gradually began to slip back into his former habits, thus undoing his heart and staking on the play moderately good health, if not life itself.

"In this case personal desires and personal appetites have been placed above the doctor's advice with a fine chance of a film-flam game being perpetrated by himself on his well-being. Card sharps are small fry compared to this type of gambling, yet it is more generally indulged in than is suspected.

Bond Holds Good Against Husband Even If He And His Wife Agree To Patch Up Their Differences

(International News Service)
SUNBURY, Pa., Sept. 12.—An opinion of widespread significance in desertion and non-support cases was handed down by Judge C. K. Morganroth in the Northumberland county court.

The jurist ruled that a bondsman for a husband is not relieved of his obligation should husband and wife agree to forget their differences and resume their marital relations.

Judge Morganroth handed down the opinion in the case of Leonora Miller vs. H. Lee Miller and John Meenahan. Miller was ordered by court on April 13, 1931. On September 28 of that year, Miller and his wife were reconciled.

A discussion arose involving cancellation of arrears and other phases of the order for support. The court order stipulated that there can be no waiver of arrears where the interest of the children is involved.

The ruling held that the bondsman for the husband was not relieved of his duty and therefore must pay $82.

LABORATORY TESTS CHECK EFFICACY OF KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN

Show Why This Delicious Cereal Overcomes Common Constipation

There are scientific reasons for the success of ALL-BRAN in preventing and relieving common constipation. Laboratory investigations show that it supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and help tone the intestinal tract.

These two important food-elements aid regular habits, and help do away with the headaches, loss of appetite and energy, so often the result of constipation.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is mild in action—much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using pills and drugs—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's daily—enough for most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Besides, ALL-BRAN brings your body twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. Equally tasty as a cereal, or used in cooking. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Home Owners' Loan Corporation Plans

Features Of The Bonds Which Are To Be Offered Are Given In Detail

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The Home Owners' Loan Corporation has issued for distribution to banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions, for their use throughout the country, a formal circular setting forth in detail the features of its bonds which will soon be issued in exchange for first mortgages on homes under the provisions of the "Home Owners' Loan Act."

which became a law on June 13, last. The bonds are expected to be available in a short time, to be exchanged for the temporary certificates which are now being issued.

The circular describing the bonds summarizes the purpose of the Home Owners' Loan Act and explains the conditions under which the Corporation will make loans secured by first mortgages. It is stated that the regulations adopted by the Board of Directors governing appraisals surround the acceptance of mortgages with every possible safeguard and assure ample security for the bonds. Only first mortgages will be accepted by the Corporation and these in each instance must be secured by real estate worth at least 25 per cent than the par value of the bonds exchanged.

The bonds are further secured by the capital stock of the Corporation to the amount of $200,000,000, all of which has been subscribed by the United States Government. The bonds will run for eighteen years, with interest at 4 per cent, payable semi-annually, and the interest guaranteed by the United States Government. They are exempt both as to principal and interest from all Federal, State, Municipal and local taxation, except surtaxes, estate, inheritance, and gift taxes.

Under the provisions of the law, they are tenable at par and must be accepted by the Corporation for the payment of any principal or interest payments on mortgage debts due the Corporation at any time.

They are acceptable by the United States Treasury at par as security for Government deposits and at market value to secure postal savings funds.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation will accept them as security for loans made by that corporation at 80 per cent of their par value.

The Comptroller of the Currency has ruled that these bonds may be held by National Banks in operation when received from the Corporation in exchange for home mortgages, and valued, for the present, at par or the value at which the banks carried such mortgages at the time of exchange, whichever is the lesser.

It is explained that every asset owned by the Corporation is security for the bonds, and the Corporation has no power to contract any other debts except running expenses, which will be more than covered by the interest collected from the underlying mortgages, the rate being 5 per cent on such mortgages, while the rate on the bonds is 4 per cent. The Corporation will retire the bonds progressively as interest and principal payments accumulate and make funds available for this purpose.

The Corporation has full authority to purchase and retire the bonds. It is stated that the guarantee of the United States Government of interest payments will be endorsed on the face of each bond and that the Attorney General of the United States has rendered an opinion upholding the legality and regularity of the issue. In connection with the issuance of the circular, the Board announces that many states have, through their legal departments, declared the bonds as eligible investments for financial institutions under their supervision, in addition to their acceptability in exchange for mortgages. New York and Colorado have enacted special laws, making them eligible as investments for savings banks, state banks and for sinking funds.

Although many institutions which will accept the bonds in exchange for mortgages have indicated that they will hold the bonds as investments, the Board expects that an open market for the sale of these securities will be established in the near future.

MANY ISSUES UP AT NOVEMBER ELECTION

State Problems To Be Voted Upon

Amendments To Be Determined Upon In Addition To Electing Officers

BEER LICENSES AND REPEAL ALSO

Twelve Amendments Submitted; One Provides For Relief Of States Needy

Election day, on November 7, is going to mean plenty of voting for the citizens who present themselves at the polls and a job of work for the election boards that will mark the day in their memory for some time. Just voting for candidates for office will be but a small part of the election this year. Twelve amendments to the state constitution are to be voted upon, and in addition the question of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and the question of the sale of beer in New Castle, Ellwood City, and eleven townships and two other boro will be on the ballot.

The officers to be elected will include a Sheriff, District Attorney, Register and Recorder, Jury Commissioners (2), and in New Castle, three school directors, several aldermen and constables, and the usual number of election officers. This in itself will be a task for the voter who does not vote a straight ticket, but after voting all that, he finds the amendments waiting.

The question of whether or not beer shall be sold in the districts voting upon it decides only whether there shall be any retail sale of beer in that district. This does not affect the distribution or manufacture of it.

On the question of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, the voter will cast his ballot for fifteen delegates pledged to vote for or against repeal. If all the names of the delegates are on the ballot the work of the Election Boards will be increased. It may be that the same plan was used for the Electoral Delegates last November will be used, in which the fifteen delegates will be represented by Yes or No, each one denoting their position on repeal.

In the matter of amendments to the State Constitution, the Secretary of the Commonwealth Richard J. Beamish has said that he would have a boiled down resume of each amendment on the ballot in order that the voter might vote intelligently upon it. Were each voter to read each amendment in the polling booth voting would take ten or fifteen minutes.

The Amendments
Some of the amendments are vitally important, others not so important. Amendment number one amends Section eighteen article 3 of the Constitution. At the present time no money shall be granted by the state to any person or class of persons. The amendment would make it possible for the state to grant pensions for military service or to blind persons 21 years of age or upwards. This amendment should not be confused with the Soldiers Bonus amendment which will be taken up later.

Amendment number two permits the General Assembly to authorize cities and boro to assess the costs of highway improvement consisting of paving, curbing, and the incidental grading or draining upon abutting property where no prior assessment has been made.

Amendment number three permits the General Assembly from time to time to prescribe the nature and kind of investments for trust funds to be made by executors, administrators, guardians, trustees and other fiduciaries.

Soldiers Bonus
Amendment number four, is commonly known as the Soldiers Bonus Amendment. Under the present constitution no law may be passed granting gratuities to any person or group of persons. This amendment amends article nine to read so that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania may bond itself for fifty million dollars for the purpose of granting compensation to men or women who served in the Spanish War, the World War, the China Relief Expedition, or the Philippines or Guam, between April 21, 1898 and July 4, 1922. If this amendment is passed then the General Assembly must prescribe by law how the moneys shall be paid to ex-service men.

Amendment 5 makes some minor changes in the qualifications of voters.

Amendment six amends article of the constitution and is for the relief of the City of Philadelphia primarily by permitting them to increase their indebtedness.

Amendment seven would prohibit any discrimination as between persons or corporations in the transportation of freight or passengers either intra state or interstate.

Loan For Relief
Amendment eight is of vital importance to every citizen in the Commonwealth and upon its passage depends whether or not the hospitals and other state aided institutions get the money appropriated to them in the last session of the General Assembly.

It permits the governor, auditor-general and state treasurer to borrow twenty five millions of dollars for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the state government for the biennium beginning June 1, 1933. This amendment is probably the most important of the group, to the state at large and should be passed.

Amendment nine concerns only the City of Philadelphia and permits them to assess costs and benefits in the building of transportation lines.

Amendment ten permits cities of the state to take more land than is actually needed for laying out, widening, or extending highways or streets.

Amendment eleven is for the City of Pittsburgh and is the Metropolitan Area plan. It permits Allegheny County to consolidate boro and townships into a Greater Pittsburgh. This amendment while touching only Pittsburgh would have the effect of making Pittsburgh one of the ten largest cities in the United States, if it is carried out in Allegheny County as prescribed.

Amendment twelve would permit the state to issue bonds for ten million of dollars for the purpose of taking over all toll bridges, and then get the money back by assessing toll until the money was refunded. The bridges would then be free. If passed this amendment would eventually mean that there would be no toll bridges in Pennsylvania.

All of the amendments are important and some of them are vitally important. It would seem to be a splendid educational touch if in the cities and counties of the state public meetings were held for the purpose of acquainting the people with the amendments in order that the citizenry might vote more intelligently upon them.

Governor Gifford Pinchot, in an open letter to the prosecutor here, charged the officials responsible for the "deportation" were guilty under the common law of kidnaping and should be tried.

Judge Frank E. Reader, who instructed the grand jury, made no mention of the case. Later, he said there was no action pending against anyone on which he could predicate instructions to the jurors.

Legion Corn Roast Held At Cascade

Heavy rain just at dinner time, acted as a damper on the American Legion corn roast in Cascade Grove Monday night, but a fair crowd attended even at that. Roast corn, hot dogs and coffee were the bill of fare and the ex-service men and their friends enjoyed the fare to the limit. Mr. John Schneider Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples.

"My trouble started with large, hard, red pimples which appeared on my face and back. They would fester and later a scale would form over them. The pimples itched and when I touched them they would burn and get red. My clothing bothered the eruptions on my back, and I could not sleep on my back on account of them."

"I had the trouble six months when I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In three months I was healed after using five cakes of Cuticura Soap and three boxes of Cuticura Ointment." (Signed) John Schneider, 2859 N. Marston St., Phila., Pa.

Publicity Spoiled Orphan Returned to Home

Taken from an Omaha orphanage on probation with a view to adoption by wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Jean Streng, of Paterson, N. J., 14-year-old Peter Cristopolus, who reminded the Strengs of their dead son, Henry, failed to qualify and has been returned to the orphanage. He is shown, top left, with Mr. and Mrs. Streng and in the other three panels with the Streng's daughter, Jean, who treated him as a brother, swimming with him, taking him out in the family motorboat on Lake Hopatcong, N. J., and doing her best to make him feel he was one of the family. But the publicity attendant upon Peter's transition from humble orphan to adopted son of a wealthy family turned the boy's head, and in center, he is pictured as he started back—the chance of a lifetime thrown away.

SECRET FORTS GUARD FRANCE ON GERMAN BORDER

France's answer to Hitlerism, the threat of monarchical restoration in Germany, and the possibility of a new German invasion is a vast system of military defenses which is nearing completion along the Franco-German border after two years of labor and at a reported cost of more than $300,000,000. At the top is an artist's conception of the secret, underground forts being constructed in the Alsace-Lorraine sector, said by travelers to resemble great white ant hills.

The forts are reported so strongly constructed as to resist the heaviest of air bombs. Map shows the frontier and on left are marching German soldiers, the ostensible French reason for the building of the forts.

Is your wife a blue-eyed brunette? If so, keep an eye on her, for, according to the records of the Los Angeles police department, more than 75 per cent of all missing women answer that description. No need to worry about the blonde. She'll stick, and you get an even break with a redhead. Joan Crawford has brown hair and light blue eyes, but maybe her hair's too light a brown to class her as brunette. Greta Garbo and Connie Bennett are golden blondes, so may be depended upon. Katharine Hepburn has red hair and greenish hazel eyes, you know; Claudette

Colbert, brown eyes and hair; Janet Gaynor, red hair and brown eyes; Norma Shearer, brown hair, blue-gray eyes. These facts were discovered by a screen writer searching for facts for a picture.

Won Big Raise Without NRA

Meet 11-year-old Diana Duff Frazier, of New York, who, without the aid of the Blue Eagle, has had her annual income raised from the comparatively insignificant sum of $7,000 to $95,215 a year by the Florida courts. The child is the daughter of the late Frank Duff Frazier, Wall Street broker, who was divorced from Diana's mother in 1926. She has been the subject of much legal wrangling, a clause in the father's will providing the child should get nothing should she live with her mother, now Mrs. Frederic Watriss. However, the courts set that proviso aside some time ago and appointed Mrs. Watriss her daughter's guardian. The child is being kept in ignorance of her good fortune, her mother believing it would be bad for her to think of so much money at such an early age.

LIKELY WINNERS OF BENNETT CUP

(International News Service)

QUEBEC, Sept. 12.—Hoping to recover the balloon in which he and Capt. Franciszek, Hynek soared 812 miles in the Bennett Cup balloon race, Lieut. Zbigniew Burzynski, Polish army balloonist, today planned to hop northward from here in an airplane.

Lieut. Burzynski, who yesterday circled over the section near Riviere-a-Pierre, Que., where the Polish entry landed, said he was also eager to recover the flight instruments from the balloon basket. The Polish fliers are unofficially considered winners of this year's race, but no official announcement is expected until instruments of all the entries are checked.

The Polish officer yesterday was piloted northward by H. P. Wardle, local flier, but was forced to return when it was found the entire heavily wooded section of Northern Quebec had been blanketed by a deep snow.

Amateur Boxers Please Fans In Battles At Bowl

Four Knockouts Feature Bouts At Bowl On Monday Night

Rain Fails To Dampen Ardor Of Crowd; Rocco, Atkinson Win

Disciples of the slam-bang art as presented by the amateur boxers had their appetites well whetted last night at Castle Bowl with four knockouts in the eight bouts on the well balanced card by Eddie Fritz, veteran boxing matchmaker in this city. Rain failed to dampen the ardor of the fans with about 1,500 turning out and cheering the amateurs on to victory.

It was a night of punch at the bowl. Every bout was filled with action. It was perhaps the best card that the Bowl has seen in many a day. From the first bout until the last the fans were on their feet and cheering madly for their favorites to come through. It was New Castle's second amateur show and the fans proved that they like to watch the "Simon Pures."

In the first bout on the card Walter Burns of Ellport, Pa., 139, was too strong for Larry Weaver of New Castle, 136. It was wicked punch that Burns had, and Weaver could not weather the storm. The decision went to Burns unanimously. This bout served as a forerunner of what was to follow.

Kraynack Is Winner
Mike Kraynack, Ellwood City, 138, knocked Eddie Owens of New Castle, 141, in the second round of their three-round bout. Owens started out fine in the first round and landed several hard punches to Kraynack's head and chin, but could not upset the Ellwood boy. In the second round Kraynack opened up with a two-fisted attack that sent Owens down three times, the final time for the count.

Joe DeMott, of New Castle, 142, won the nod over Frank Rachig of Bessemer, 140, in the third bout on the card. DeMott took the first two rounds by a wide margin, but tired in the third round and Rachig made a sensational comeback to almost floor DeMott, but DeMott's work in the early rounds won him the decision. It was a very good bout and full of action.

Paglia Wins
Yankee Paglia, New Castle 118½, won the decision from Lew Tamber, of Farrell, Pa., 118½, in the fourth bout on the card. This bout was full of action, with the little mites tearing into each other like a couple of bulldogs. Paglia landed the better punches, but Tamber was also very effective in landing several hard rights and lefts. The fans enjoyed the scrap immensely, but did not like the decision.

The fifth bout ended in a knockout with Mickey Cutic of Youngstown 113 1-4 putting John Tonoff of Campbell, Ohio, 116, away in the second round of their scheduled three-rounder. Cutic was by far the cleverest of the two boxers, and was the better puncher. Tonoff could not weather the storm of blows that rained on him from every angle.

Marino Wins Nod
Custy Marino of Ellwood City, 143, had the better of Charles Arnett of Ellwood City, 135½, in the next bout. This was one of the feature bouts on the bill with both boys standing toe to toe and punching for all they were worth. Marino was the stronger of the two at the finish. Another match of these two boys would not be a bad dish for Fritz to serve.

Tony Adamo, New Castle, 146½, was knocked out by Ray Atkinson, Ellport, Pa., 148½ in the second round of their bout which was number seven on the bill. Atkinson was too clever, punched hard, and Adamo could not weather the storm of blows that descended on him from all sides. Atkinson put up a fine two-fisted attack that surprised the fans as much as it did Adamo. Atkinson just waded in and took all that Adamo could throw and then stepped out with a terrific punch to the jaw that spelled the finish for the New Castle boy. Adamo went down from a blow he said was low.

Rocco Wins By Kayo
George Rocco, of Ellwood City, 158, knocked out Gene Kennedy, 153, of Youngstown, Ohio, in the second round of their final bout. Rocco, a brother of Emmett Rocco, the heavyweight looked impressive in his victory here. He boxed nicely, punched well, and timed his blows with a one-two. Kennedy was on the floor several times, and finally a hard blow on the chin spelled the finish of the bout. Rocco received a fine hand from the crowd for his work.

Tommy Jones, well known local policeman, and veteran of the boxing game handled the job as referee last night in a fine manner. The judges were James J. Dunn of New Castle and Lew Brady of New Castle. Peter Capitolo was the timer, and Charles "Bugs" Walther announced the fight.

All of the bouts were sanctioned by the A. A. U. and State Boxing Commission.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tommy Jones, former lightweight boxer who met Jimmy Duffy, Knockout Sweeney, Red Robinson, Mickey Rodgers, Battling Terry and other prominent men when he was flinging boxing gloves was the third man in the Castle bowl last night. State boxing and A. A. U. officials designated Sam Leyschok, county detective of Mercer county to referee but the wires got crossed somewhere and Jones stepped into the ring and made good.

One of the niceties of the fist carnal last night was the prompt handling of the fans and fanatics by the ushers, all of whom were attired in white and wore a blue band around their left arm. The blue band was fastened to every attachment of the bowl and the attaches served with courtesy and efficiency. The bowl was spotlessly clean, the fans were in fine fettle and all enjoyed their meal of punch.

Ray Ogan, sports promoter has announced the signing of Babe Didrikson, star girl athlete as a leader of a girls basketball team which will tour the country.

Joe Latiano of Ellwood City and Carl Rio of Farrell led delegations of fans to this city last night. There was quite a crowd from Youngstown in the bowl.

One hundred thousand dollars worth of customers is expected to see Barney Ross, 135 pound champ defend his crown against Tony Canzoneri, former champ at New York tonight.

Warner Okays New Grid Rule

Rule Placing Ball Ten Yards In From Side Lines, Will Improve Game

By FRANK (BUCK) O'NEILL,
International News Service
Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Glenn S. Warner, head coach at Temple University in Philadelphia, today hailed the new rule placing a ball ten yards in from the side lines in the event that it has been carried or kicked to within that distance of the border of the field. The former master of Carlisle Indian school, Pittsburgh and Stanford said it was the first break the attack has had since the introduction of the forward pass.

The definition of clipping, broadened to include any running into the back of a passer or any other player not carrying the ball, will not have a great deal of influence on play, Warner thinks.

"I think that carrying the ball in ten yards from the side lines will add interest and variety to the game this fall," said Warner following an exhibition of rules put on by Columbia here Saturday. "It is one of the few breaks the attack has had since 1906, when the forward pass was introduced."

"By limiting the attack in football, rule makers took something out of the game. I have always endeavored to create interesting and sound methods of offense in football. I love to see interesting styles of attack, and I believe that all lovers of sport share with me in this."

A consensus of coaches observing the demonstration of the new rules given by the Columbia squad was that while everything shown was rudimentary and should be known by every football coach, football would be benefitted by holding similar demonstrations throughout the country. Inviting the public.

Amateurs Show Fine Golf In Initial Round

Johnny Goodman, National Open Champion Among Those Expected To Qualify

MANY VETERANS ARE ON FENCE

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 12.—Much after the manner of a lot of females bickering over a few bargains down at the Bon Ton, the scramble is on today, undignified and quite without scruple, for the 32 qualifying places in the national amateur championship, now in the process of going forward at Kenwood's meek and docile golf course.

Fair weather and a deadline of 150 strokes for 36 holes, the lowest qualifying figure of the generation, are the predictions, with some of our better golfers hovering dangerously near oblivion.

Among those who have to shoot in the nether 70's to advance into the match play rounds, starting tomorrow, are the former champions, Jesse Sweetser, Chandler Egan, Jesse Guilford and perhaps Chick Evans. Among those who don't are C. Ross Somerville, the Canadian who won the championship a year ago and today is riding the crest of a 70 to share the overnight lead for the match play rounds.

Neither does George Dunlap, Jr., with a 71 nor Johnny Goodman, Don Edwards, Gus Moreland, Pat Sawyer, Johnny Fischer and Willie Turnesa. They have 72's and, like Somerville, Munger and Dunlap, they don't need strokes today because they already have them.

None of the top-hands, of course, are greatly concerned about the medal which, after all, is only "place money" in comparison with the championship itself. The young men who are concerned are Sweetser, with his 79 and the necessity, if the estimate of Kenwood's docility is not exaggerated, of coming up with not worse than a 71 today; Guilford with an overnight 76; Maxston and Egan with 77's and George Voigt with a 78.

Evans Shoots Well
Even Evans and Maurice McCarthy, with their 75's are not wholly immune, although Chick's performance, the best he has shown in a qualifying round in some years, was a grand effort in view of the fact that his thoughts and his sympathies were elsewhere. His mother is gravely ill in Chicago.

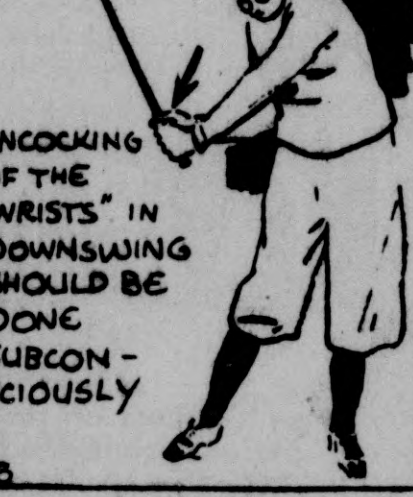

Anyhow, there were all too few of the field of 153 in the eighties yesterday, as the assumption is that two 75's will be ample, sufficient and enough when they begin separating the goats from the Llamas and Alpaca shortly before nightfall this evening.

A follower of Machado seems to be any Cuban who has something another Cuban wishes to inherit.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Central Press Association

Number 93

ALEX MORRISON says: "Uncocking of the wrists" is an expression used to cover the action of the wrists during the downswing.

It's one of the most popular phrases used in present day instruction—and one that does much to handicap the player in making his swing.

The wrists should unbend during the downswing, but any conscious effort on your part to make them unbend will only upset your swing as a whole.

Bend your wrists properly in the backswing and if you keep your chin back, you'll get the proper wrist action in your downswing.

Koppel Loses To Baden Redwings

Koppel A. C. Drops First Football Game Of Year At Baden

Koppel A. C. football eleven played their first game of the season and lost to Baden Redwings at Baden 12 to 0, Monday. The Baden Redwings scored on a forward pass with one half minute to go in the second quarter after they had recovered a bad pass from center which went over the Koppel punter's head and rolled near the goal line.

Boden scored again in the last quarter with a minute to go on a pass over the line. The attempt to gain the extra point was blocked both times.

Koppel will play at Pittsburgh in their next game. It will be played against North Side Trojans.

Rain Fails To Halt Gridders

New Castle High School Football Team Trains In Rain Monday

BRADDOCK HIGH HAS FINE TEAM

Rain and plenty of it Monday afternoon failed to dampen the spirits of a fine New Castle High School football team. Head Coach Philip Brindbaugh sent the gridgers through a workout despite the rain-drops.

The practice was curtailed somewhat, with the three teams running through signals. The players were given a chance to handle a wet and slippery ball.

Coach Brindbaugh is not yet set on his starting lineup, with the end jobs still in doubt, but it looks as if Kneram and Hitchens will draw down the starting berths, with Perrett and Fleming second choices and Tusciano and Miles also ready for action.

Braddock Strong
Braddock High will bring a strong team here. The line is big and charges fast. The backfield is fast and clever. Holding Erie Strong Vincent to a 6-5 tie last week, put the right kind of spirit into the Braddock players. Strong Vincent is the best high school team in the city of Erie. New Castle gridgers will have their hands full if they upset this team coached by Ham Hudson.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardener announced today that the starting time of the game Friday night will be 8:30. Daylight Time. George K. Fry will handle the referees whistle, with Merriman and Harr the other two officials.

Eight Games On Grove City Card

GROVE CITY, Pa., Sept. 12.—There will be five home and three away on the card of the Grove City College football squad for the 1933 season. It is stated today.

Home games will be with Morris-Harvey October 7, Edinboro October 14, Slippery Rock October 28, Waynesburg November 11, Thiel November 25. The Crimson plays Westminster at New Castle November 4, Bethany October 21 at Wheeling and Geneva at Beaver Falls November 13.

Harman Begins His Third Year With Penn Team

Coach Harman Faces 1933 Season With Loss Of Several Star Players

WHOLE NEW LINE MUST BE FORMED

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—Harvey Harman, starting his third year at Penn as head grid coach, is faced with the task of building an almost entirely new line. Harman is a former New Castle high and Pitt football star and has turned out several fine eleveners here and at Haverford. Both regular tackles, guards and ends from last year's eleven have been graduated. Only Roy Engle, varsity center, remains from the first forward wall.

In the backfield, Harman and his aides must groom new players to fill the shoes of Carl Perina, George Munger and Eddie Masavage, the 1932 stars.

Of the squad of 45 men ordered to report at camp, 17 won their varsity letters last season, eight won junior varsity letters and 14 received freshman numerals.

In addition to Engle, others expected to win berths on the team include: Edwin Lewis, blocking halfback; Don Kellett, punter and passer; Bill Shanahan, halfback; Carl Palombo, substitute tackle the past two seasons; Bob McCaffrey and Paul Cresci, substitute guards; Joe Burk and Edward Hopkinson, Jr., substitute tackles; John Lima, fullback; Cy Newcomb, regular guards in 1930; John Powell and John Pennypacker, first string substitute ends a year ago, and the following Neophytes: Dorian Brown, halfback; Maxwell Forrest, fullback; Paul Stofka, center; George Kerr and John Neill, ends; Josiah McCracken quarterback; Henry Rausch, halfback and Paul King, tackle.

Giants-Senators Keep On Winning

World's Series Bug Is Buzzing Around New York And Washington

JOHNNY MARCUM WINS HIS SECOND

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Only a few final steps today separated the Washington Senators and the New York Giants from the Golden Gate of the 1933 World Series.

If the Giants take ten of their remaining nineteen games, the second-place Chicago Cubs will have to snatch all of the remaining sixteen games to win the National League pennant. Washington only has to get an even break in sixteen remaining games to annex the American League flag, even though the runner-up New York Yankees should win all of the eighteen games still on their schedule.

Giants Down Reds
The Giants downed Cincinnati again yesterday, 3 to 1, and now lead the Cubs by eight full games. Carl Hubbell, ace of the New Yorkers' pitching staff, once more was the rescuing hero. This time it was Herman Bell who was in trouble, so Hubbell hurled the last three inn-

Lightweight Championship At Stake Tonight In New York City Fight

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—In a ring erected on the spot where a few weeks hence Carl Hubbell will pitch the opening game of the world series for the Giants against the Senators, Barney Ross and Tony Canzoneri tonight will try to reenact for the edification of some 35,000 cash customers the drama they recently staged in Chicago.

These young business men are scheduled to travel 15 rounds with the lightweight title at stake and inasmuch as one box is a Jew and the other an Italian, the bout is what Broadway calls a natural. So natural, in fact, the gate is expected to reach $160,000 of which Mrs. William Randolph Hearst's milk fund for babies will receive a considerable share.

You may recall their last bout was closer than the quills on a porcupine's back, with Ross lifting the crown from today's corrugated brow on a decision that Chicago termed correct and New York thought was slightly camembertian.

Golf Leaguers To Meet Thursday

Will Assemble At Municipal Club House For Social Evening

Players in the New Castle Golf League will assemble Thursday evening at the Municipal Club House for a social evening, which is expected to prove one of the most attractive events yet held.

A surprise feature is in store for all who attend, and the officers of the league are anticipating a large attendance on the occasion.

On September 28, Mrs. W. G. Fleming will have charge of the program, assuring the golf leaguers of two fine evenings this month.

News stories have become so rare that a lot of people think Gran Chaco is the head knocker of some lodge.

Heroes-Goats In Big League

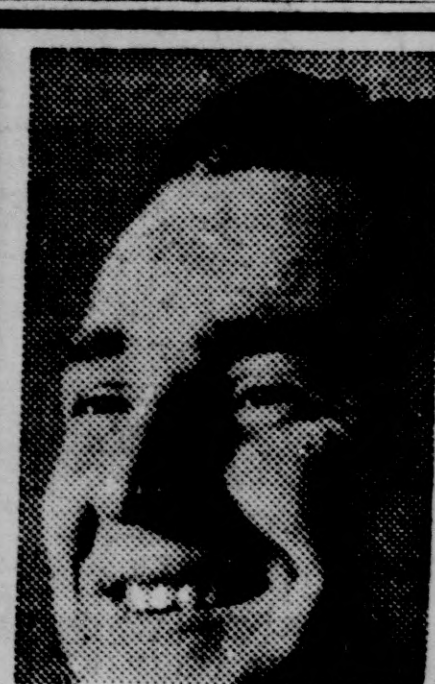

(International News Service)

The Hero—Johnny Marcum, Athletics. This recruit right hander up from Louisville duplicated his shut-out triumph of a week ago when he started his big league career and white-washed the White Sox of Chicago 8 to 0.

The Goat—Red Lucas, Cincinnati Reds. Pitched fair enough ball but three times his teammates had the bases loaded but failed to tally against New York, the Giants finally winning, 3 to 1.

Signing 32 Boxers For Fair Grounds

And now that last night's A. A. U. scrape by the Jefferson A. C. is out of the way, Ed. Fritz, local matchmaker, stated today that he has made practically all of the matches which will be staged by the New Castle Fair association in front of the grandstand on the nights of September 20 and 21.

He belongs to Our Suit and Overcoat Club—you should join.

Washington High Gridders Training

Coach Dan Carroll Has Nine Veterans From Last Year On Hand

New Material Is Promising; Will Hold Practices Every Day

Head Coach Dan Carroll of George Washington Junior High made the statement Monday afternoon that he expects Washington to have a top-notch football team this year. The George Washington squad numbers about 50. Of this group nine are veterans from last year.

Practice was curtailed Monday afternoon by the downpour of rain. Carroll will not be idle the remainder of this week, rain or shine, but will have his team out on the practice field.

Nine Veterans

The following veterans from last year are on hand—Edwin Donegan, Domenick Covelli, Tony Perrett, Leroy Cox, Leo Thompson, Mike Singler, Sam Blois, George Loudon, and Fulton Cook.

Others out for the team who have shown promise of developing into gridders are—Ross Bridenbaugh, Louis Leonardo, Jack Graham, Jack Cort, Claire Stitt, George Bashor, Charles Mort, Robert Enns, Chas. Randall, and Tom McCormick.

The drills so far have consisted of fundamentals, and limbering up exercises. Carroll will not scrimmage the team for several days yet. It looks like a good team at Washington High this year.

Donegan, Perrett and Cook are three of the leading backfield candidates, with young Ross Bridenbaugh slated for a tryout at the quarterback job. On the line the leading candidates are Cox, Thompson, Singer, Blois, Covelli and Loudon.

There are several good sized boys on the squad this year. Carroll is busy arranging a schedule for the gridders, and is looking ahead to the two battles with Ben Franklin Junior High.

SUNBURY, Pa., Sept. 12.—Eugene Feigley, a trucker and farmer of Rockfeller township, near here, is exhibiting what he claims to be a record-size tomato. It is eight inches in diameter and weighs two pounds, ten ounces.

Wind Hampered Play For Title

Municipal Champ Says Players Had Handicap To Overcome—Pleased With Gallery

One of the biggest handicaps that Municipal Champion, W. M. Nunn, and his competitor, M. K. Gilliland, had to battle Sunday, in their play for the title, was the stiff wind.

It was not as bad in the afternoon as in the morning, and their scores in the morning round reflected this. Many of their shots were deflected from their true course by the gale, and they had to make perfect recovery shots. Nunn's score for the morning round was 81 while Gilliland shot 80.

In the afternoon, the wind eased off some, and both men shot a better score.

Mr. Nunn was pleased with the fine gallery which watched the match, which was one of the largest to follow a championship battle at the course. They were very courteous toward the players, and applauded the shots of both players, being impartial in their sentiment.

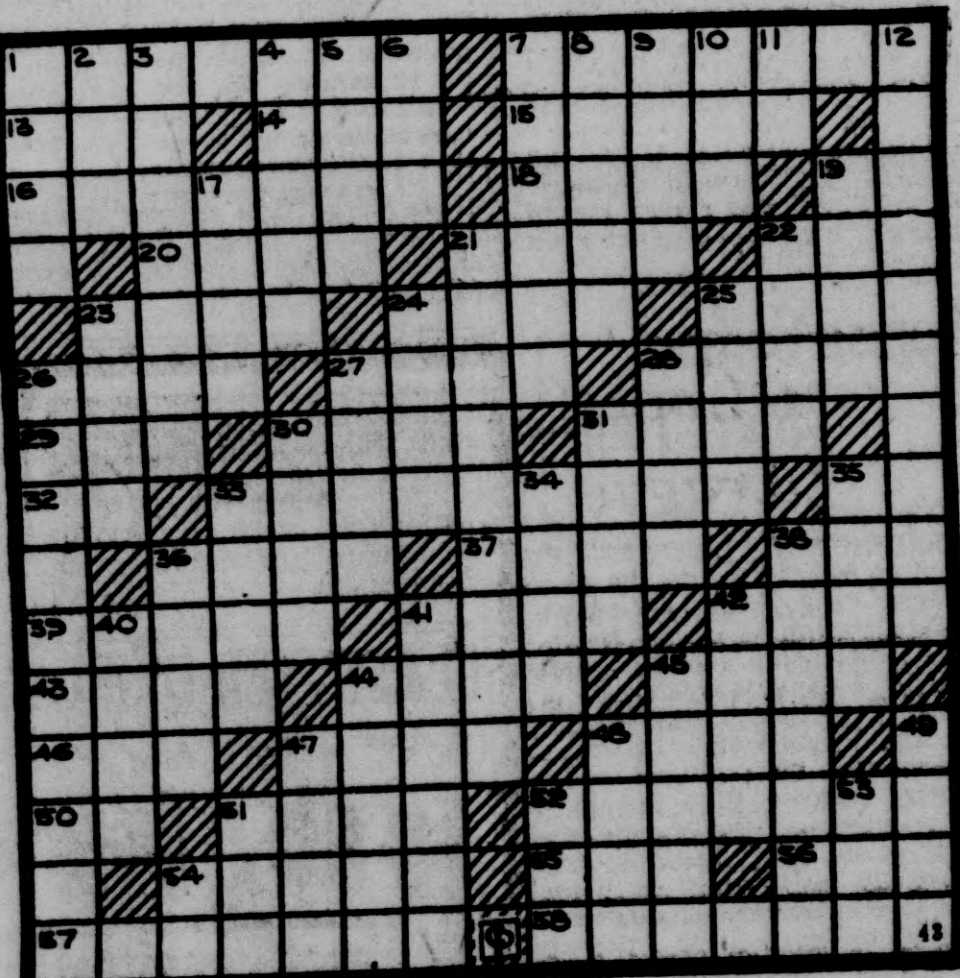

Ryantown Plays Princeton Today

Ryantown and Princeton will clash in the first of the independent game series at Ryantown at six p. m. d. s. t. today. Players must be on the field at 5:30 p. m. A large crowd is expected to witness the game.

Colonial And Elder To Meet

Colonial A. C. and the Elder A. C. will clash at 8:15 p. m., d. s. t. today on Colonial field. It will be the first of a five game series. Thornton will pitch for Colonial and Butler will hurl for Elder.

Profit Taking

Are Cut Down
In InstancesCHRYSLER REACHES
NEW HIGH ABOVE 50

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Profit taking snapped the advance in the stock market today and early gains of fractions to more than a point were cut down to the vanishing point in many instances.

The profit-taking was most acute in the liquor shares and yesterday's trading favorites including United States Steel and Chrysler.

The liquor stocks after opening fractionally higher ran into heavy offerings right after the start and National Distillers, had its early gain converted into a loss. American Commercial Alcohol, Commercial Solvents, and United States Industrial Alcohol were similarly affected.

Chrysler was heavily hit by the profit taking after establishing a New Year's high above 50 and sold down for a small net loss. Railroad shares including New York Central, Atchafalpa, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Pennsylvania also came in for profit-taking but held well and managed to retain a small part of their early gains.

Utility shares were featureless and quiet making no great headway in the upturn. Consolidated Gas held unchanged.

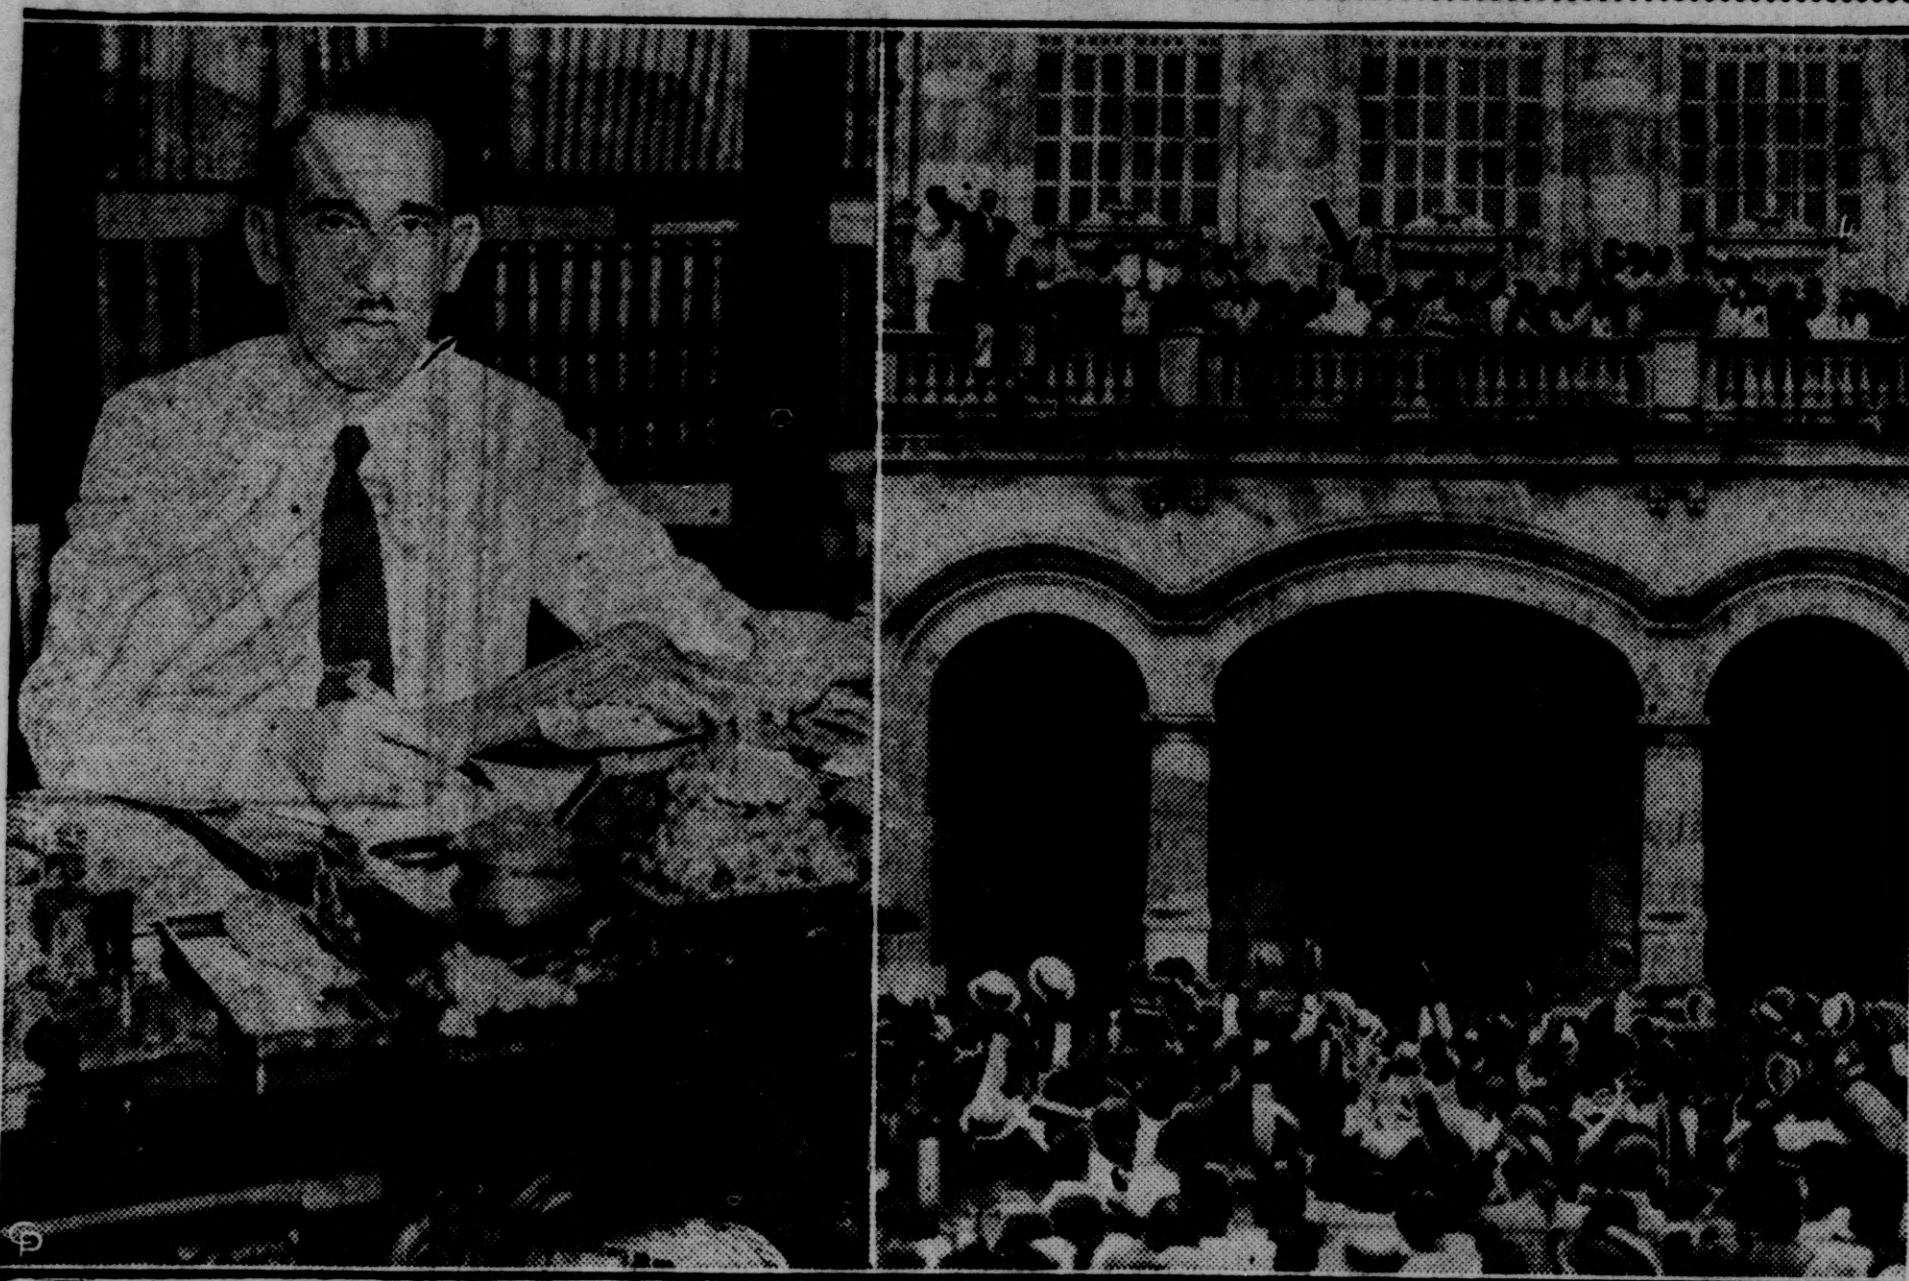

The commodity markets were steady with wheat slightly mixed while cotton gained about 50 cents a bale on top of yesterday's gain of more than $1 a bale.

Closing, Says NRA
Kills Small Firms

ELGIN, Ill., Sept. 12.—Benjamin A. Pearsall, head of a dairy products company employing about 100 persons, announced today that he would close his plant and retire Oct. 1 because he believed "the NRA is going to put the small business out of existence."

Pearsall founded his butter and milk firm in 1906 and expanded it into the manufacture of other dairy products, sandwich spreads and salad dressings. Lately he had been a member of the executive committee drafting codes for the mayonnaise, margarine, butter and milk industries and spent the last two months at Washington working over codes.

"The NRA has brought too much government manipulation in business," he declared today. "I have not signed any NRA code because I believe that individualism is the best qualification in operating a business. No one in Washington can run a business at long distance."

Many Problems
Being Settled
By Board Here

NRA Advisory Group Is Answering
Many Inquiries
Relative To Codes

FIND WILLINGNESS TO CO-OPERATE HERE

In an interview today with Marcus Feuchtwanger, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce NRA advisory committee, Mr. Feuchtwanger stated that the committee is now going over the approved codes of the various industries, studying them closely, since many questions are being asked daily, and it is felt that a quick reply is wanted.

It was found that nearly 400 men and women have visited him at his headquarters in the Chamber of Commerce building, in the last ten days, making inquiries in regard to their particular business or industry.

With the assistance of Secretary A. W. Chilton of the Chamber of Commerce, many have been placed on the right road and in a position to retain their Blue Eagles. Problems existing between the worker and merchant or manufacturer have been worked out to the mutual satisfaction of both, avoiding unpleasant conditions.

Hearings Are Held
When asked what cases seem to give him the most trouble, Mr. Feuchtwanger calmly stated that he experiences little trouble when both sides have hearings on the matter and the code is explained. A conciliation results and both sides go away with a feeling of satisfaction, conscious that they are being good Americans and soldiers in the great army of President Roosevelt's N. R. A.

The work being done by the women's division under the chairmanship of Mrs. S. D. Pearson is surprising, and in a few days an announcement will be made of the number on NRA consumer stickers which have been exchanged for signed pledge cards. After these are tabulated, they will be forwarded to Washington.

The employers are found to be living up to their codes, Chairman Feuchtwanger stated, using the words of the N. R. A. chief, General Johnson, "Get the pledges signed and the Blue Eagles up, then find out who are not entitled to keep them."

Must Have Faith.
Some men, or corporations, or groups of individuals may take advantage of loopholes in the codes to evade them by subterfuge. They may get away with it for a while, but not for long.

Customers, employers, and competitors will be quick to discover and make known any instances of sharp practice. Such cases will be dealt with and if not settled by the local N. R. A. board, the cases will be forwarded to Washington, with recommendations. Such action up to the moment has not been resorted to by the local committee.

"We must accept the whole NRA movement on faith," stated Chairman Feuchtwanger. "Then we will be enabled to enjoy the gains more quickly. This is not time for profiteering by capital or by labor, by producer, or by retailer. Self interest is bound to appear, but having pledged our support, we should observe our pledges in the spirit as well as the letter. Our president and his aids will not stand for monopolistic tendencies.

"Such a radical program can be made effective," he stated in conclusion. "The spirit of America will make it go over."

(International News Service)
TURIN—The relic of Christ's Passion, around which ecclesiastical controversy has raged for nearly a century, will be exhibited in the Royal Chapel of the Turin Cathedral in September. It is a portion of the Holy Shroud, in which, tradition insists, the Savior's body was wrapped after the Crucifixion. For many generations the Shroud has been the property of the House of Savoy, of which the reigning sovereign of Italy is the head. King Victor Emanuel 3rd will be present when the Shroud is exposed for public veneration.

Liquor Ring Members Held

Indict 26 In Federal Court
At Philadelphia For Liquor Ring Activity

PROMINENT MEN AMONG INDICTED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—W. Hensel Brown, former United States commissioner at Lancaster, and 25 other residents of Berks and Lancaster counties today stood indicted by the federal grand jury and leaders of a huge liquor ring that extended to such distant points as Erie and Canada.

Brown, a son of the late J. Hay Brown, chief justice of the Pennsylvania state supreme court, is specifically charged with intimidating a government witness.

The indictments charging 53 over acts were returned secretly by the same jury that conducted the Delaware county investigation which last spring terminated in the indictment of state Senator John J. McClure and 95 other persons.

The up-state ring's ramifications extended into Canada, the New England states and throughout New Jersey and Pennsylvania, according to the indictments, which name Stanley Kosak, Isadore Minker and Abraham Yaffe as the repeal ring leaders. They were accused of operating a 7000-gallon still on a farm in Oley township, Berks county, and another of 3000-gallon capacity at Reading.

The "brains" of the ring, according to the indictments, frequently met in the Berkshire and William Penn Hotel, Reading; the Brunswick Hotel, Lancaster; and the Fisher Hotel, Erie.

Richards Writes From Alabama

Reports Interesting Find In Lake Purdy, Near Birmingham

In a letter to a member of The News staff, Howard B. Richards, general manager of the Birmingham Water Company tells of an interesting find made in Lake Purdy, the source of the Birmingham water supply. A quantity of fresh water jelly fish were found evidently brought in by migrating ducks. The largest of them was a little smaller than a dime built like a cart wheel with four spokes and a funnel in the center.

A number of them were collected and sent to the New York Aquarium and immediately the scientists there sent back for more samples. They stated that the first were unusually rare and seemed anxious to get a collection of them. Unfortunately the balance of them had been killed in the treating process.

Another fish prevalent in Alabama is the Gambusia, about one and a half inches long. The Gambusia feeds from the larvae of mosquitos and where the Gambusia is found malaria is not found. Mr. Richards is sending a collection of the Gambusia to Hamilton Noss of Highland avenue who has a collection of odd fishes.

Autogyro Victims Taken From Lake

Bodies Of Girl, Two Men Are Recovered Late Monday

INDIANA HARBOR, Ind., Sept. 12.—The bodies of two men and a woman who plunged into Lake Michigan with their autogyro Wednesday were recovered on the Indiana Harbor shore late Monday.

A wrist watch bearing the initials "C. T. O." bore witness that the bodies were those of Charles T. Otto, pilot, of Haverford, Pa.; H. W. "Spud" Manning, of Pico, Cal., world's champion parachute jumper, and Miss Majenta Gerard, of River Forest, Ill.

The girl's body was borne in by the waves. Shortly afterward the bodies of the two aviators were seen floating off shore.

The men were partly unclad, leading police to believe they had tried to divest themselves of clothing and swim ashore after their autogyro, flying from South Bend to Chicago, dropped into the lake.

The 22-year-old girl was attired only in underclothing. She wore a diamond ring.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Police To Break Up Home Looting

Night prowlers about the North Liberty street district of the Seventh ward had either cease their activities or walk into the law's hands, for it is learned that city police will keep an eagle eye on that section for some time.

The action comes as a result of numerous complaints which have reached authorities within the past few weeks.

Several vacant homes in the district, as well as the occupied ones, have been visited by night marauders.

Mahoning School's Enrollment Is 878

Mahoning school's enrollment at the opening of the second week Monday stood at 878, according to a new check by Miss Nannie L. Mitchell, principal of the building.

When the term opened last Wednesday the attendance numbered about 900. Since then 23 have been transferred either to Ben Franklin or George Washington junior high schools, a certain few have quit and about 25, the school learns, have not reported because they lack shoes or clothing.

Ward Canvassed For Blue Eagle Pledges

A trio of Seventh ward women, Mrs. Ray Herchler, Mrs. Richard Cooper and Mrs. Ernest Vincent canvassed the homes of ward residents on Saturday as a part of the local campaign for NRA consumer's pledges.

Reports are that a large percentage of the homes were placed under the blue eagle banner that day.

Girl Trades $160 Diamond Ring "In Fun" And Loses

It happened so quickly that two girls who accompanied the young men to Kittanning were left stranded here, holding a breakfast check at the final fade-out.

Miss Hazel Myer, Butler, owner of the diamond, and Miss Walker, R. D. 1, Kittanning, motored here from Butler this morning with two men described as Italians. One of them, who said his name was Mike Michaels, traded his ring, "in fun," with Miss Myer while the four were eating breakfast. Then the men departed suddenly, leaving the girls with an unpaid breakfast check.
